

Reaching A New Generation: French Language Interactive Gospel

BLF Éditions (formerly BLF-Europe), France Évangélisation and Majestart, a Christian artists' collective, have teamed up to produce an exciting new interactive gospel for the French speaking world.

The design of this NEW Gospel of Luke is eye-catching, with a durable cover and elastic closure reminiscent of a high quality journal. However, its most inspiring feature is the technology it utilizes to bring deeper exploration right to the fingertips of the reader.

You may ask, "How does this new Gospel engage the reader? What makes it a Gospel to 'discover by yourself'?" The answer is: It is "interactive." Alongside important passages will be questions posed directly to the reader, encouraging them to read actively.

You may ask, "How does this new Gospel become 'interactive?'" The answer: Within this new Gospel of Luke is a second type of study tool. Included will be video clips available to the reader by either scanning a "flashcode" with their cell phone or by following the provided web-link. By putting an easily scanned link right next to Scriptures about which the reader may have questions and thoughts, we provide a quick and an intriguing means for the reader to pursue deeper understanding. How cool is that?

The video content for the reader will cover four different perspectives:

- 1) Readers can discover connections between Scripture and history.
- 2) Readers can discover connections between Scripture and philosophical questions.
- 3) Readers can discover connections between Scripture and their life today.
- 4) Readers will be provided with a step-by-step guide to the theology behind the Gospel they are reading.

These videos will feature speakers from different parts of the Francophone world.

The partners developing this interactive Gospel have the organizational, aesthetic, theological and technical aspects of the project in hand. Next, finances are needed to make it happen! The initial interactive Gospel, including the fabulous videos, requires $13,000. We also hope to subsidize the initial 20,000 volume print run since this is intended for distribution as an evangelism tool.

Your financial and prayer partnership for this high tech Gospel message are critical. Please consider what you can do to help launch this important French language project. To learn more about this opportunity please visit www.blfusa.org

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

As the end of 2014 approaches, please consider a special year-end gift to support the vital USA office and all the administrative work they do.

They enhance the literature publishing and special teams in Europe, Africa, Haiti and Canada.

Short Term Missions Hosts Move On To New Ministry Opportunities

Each spring and summer for the past ten years, Kevin and Debbi Eggleston have graciously served as Host and Hostess in Marpent, France for many of the short term mission teams that have visited, ministered and worked in the publishing house. BLF is so thankful for their dedication and servants' hearts! As they move on to other ministry opportunities, and leave the position of BLF Europe Host and Hostess, BLF USA had a short conversation with them:

> Where are you from? El Cajon, CA, near San Diego.

> What did you enjoy the most about your time in France? Work and fellowship with the French Christians, making many new friends from the American and Canadian teams, having about twenty "surrogate grandchildren," knowing that we are living Ephesians 2:10, and of course, the baguettes!

> What do you do in the US? Kevin is a retired firefighter who enjoys golf and home improvement projects (there are many since we have spent much of the last 10 years serving in France!) Kevin also serves as a leader in an Adult Bible Fellowship class at Shadow Mountain Community Church. Debbi serves on the women's ministry council and enjoys creating jewelry and watercolor art.

Kevin and Debbi Eggleston

> What is your favorite thing to eat in France? Everything! The food is so good! We need to watch our weight and it's very difficult because we try to make the meal times with the teams very special with great food and desserts.

> Any other fun facts about yourselves that you would like to share? We love to travel and since we said "yes" to serving Him, He has provided travel opportunities beyond our imagination!

Kevin is currently helping coordinate future teams, but the host positions in Marpent are available for others who are ready to serve for some or all of the three 2015 spring/summer short term mission projects. If you would like more information check out www.blfusa.org/04020servicehost.htm on the BLF-USA website. Or, to have a conversation about this opportunity, please call or send an email to info@blfusa.org.

Field Reps Needed Throughout USA

As the need for Christian literature in the French language grows, BLF-USA needs additional Field Representatives throughout the USA. The basic responsibility is to share the needs of French-speakers around the world who have limited access to the Gospel. Reps will provide information and encouragement to BLF supporters, develop new support teams and present the ministry at mission conferences, college campuses and in other groups.

BLF is dedicated to publishing, creating and shipping French language literature and media throughout the French-speaking world. The ideal candidate has a heart for the people who will benefit from these materials in Europe, Africa, Haiti, Canada and other parts of the globe.

Is it possible God could use you, here in the USA, to further His Kingdom through this ministry opportunity with BLF? We know you will be greatly blessed as you see people reading God's Word in their own language as they grow and mature.

If you have any questions, thoughts or wish to start a conversation about the BLF Field Reps opportunity, please contact us. We would be honored to pray with you as you seek God's direction in your life. Just call our office or send an email to info@blfusa.org.
